

VACCINATION IN PREGNANCY AND INFANTS FORUM

16 NOV 2022 | 6-9 PM AEDT | ONLINE

Plan. Check. Protect.

YOU'RE INVITED TO VIPI 2022!

VIPI is a free, live, accredited event for Australian healthcare professionals who strive to provide best-practice care in pregnancy and infancy.

You will enjoy a diverse, expert-led program that will highlight the importance of vaccination in pregnancy and infancy, consider current barriers to delivering best-practice care, and facilitate collaborative discussions to better support informed decision making among pregnant women, birthing parents and caregivers of infants.

Hosted by A/Prof Jen Martin

Leader, Science Communication Teaching Program
School of Bioscience | Faculty of Science
The University of Melbourne

MEET THE STEERING COMMITTEE

Dr Rama Kandasamy

Paediatrician
Staff specialist at Sydney Children's Hospital Network and the National Centre for Immunisation Research and Surveillance (NCIRS)

Dr Lisa McHugh

Midwife
Post-doctoral research fellow at the University of Queensland School of Public Health

Dr Wendy Burton

General Practitioner
Morningside, QLD
Clinical interests include women's health, antenatal care, paediatrics and asthma

Visit www.vipi.com.au

for more information and to register.

This is an event you won't want to miss!

Brought to you by

Sponsored by

