Country to Coast, Qld (CCA) is an independent, not-for-profit organisation that delivers the Primary Health Network (PHN) programs on behalf of the Commonwealth Department of Health and Aged Care. Through needs-assessment of our community, we commission leading health services and coordinated care for our region.

CCQ has a skills-based Board of Directors comprised of experienced health professionals, business and legal experts and representatives from the not-for-profit sector.

Dr Peter Dobson, Board Chair, said, “Our Board leads the strategic direction of the organisation and has responsibility for compliance and reporting, we also recognise the role CCQ has in the importance of good health and wellbeing, and the central role played by primary health care to keep communities strong and resilient.”

“This week we are excited to announce a new member to the Board, Mr Paul White.”

Paul served as the Chief Executive Officer of ASX-listed company Brisbane Broncos Ltd, from January 1, 2011, until February 2021. He obtained an MBA from Central Queensland University. He is an accomplished Director and currently holds a position as a Non-Executive Director at Magnetite Mines Ltd, a company listed on the ASX.

Paul, who is looking forward to his role on the Board, said, “I have spent a large part of my life working in Regional Queensland and I still call Rockhampton home. I do have a strong connection and passion for the region our network covers and understand the diversity of community health needs across it. I look forward to working with Julie and her team and also Peter and my fellow directors to serve our community in my capacity as a Director.”

Julie Sturgess CCQ Chief Executive Officer, also welcomes Paul to the Board.

“Strengthening the Board, builds on us building a team that is both engaged, innovative, and bring diverse backgrounds and expertise, to work with our communities and primary health care providers to grow resilience and to improve health outcomes,” said Julie.
