

What is the Healthy Together Project?

The Improving health outcomes for People with Intellectual Disability (PWID) is a plan of action.

It has been created to help improve health outcomes and experiences for people with intellectual disabilities and their families.

It also helps health professionals, disability services and carers.

This project focuses on better healthcare.

Having good health care keeps you happy and healthy.

Everyone deserves access to the best health care.

This project will help primary health care workers take better care of you and your health.

Primary Health Care workers include:

Doctor or GP

Nurse

Dentist

Administration

Pharmacist

Allied Health

Improving health outcomes for People with Intellectual Disability (PWID) is based in Queensland; Central Queensland, Wide Bay and Sunshine Coast.

We want to make primary health care services better for people with intellectual disability and the people supporting them.
